The morning boiler plate alleges to have made a discovery from a gentleman claiming to be posted that the price of opium at present is very low, quoting Hongkong at $18.50 to $19; Victoria, $16.50 to $17.25, and California $10 and $11. The BULLETIN quoted figures the other day ranging as high as $29, on the authority of one who actually knows, and not one "claiming to be posted." Probably our contemporary's informer was the white man who secured a horn of opium and a "pake" for fifty cents.

Mr. Holland, official reporter of the Canadian Senate, while ashore from the Monowai yesterday, visited the Legislature. There was no quorum when he called, and he had a chat with President J. S. Walker.

The BULLETIN issued a full account of the Sullivan-Corbett fight yesterday afternoon, which took the town by surprise, considering that the paper mail had not been sent up-town. The effort was much appreciated.

The Beretania street Armory was crowded last evening with ladies and their escorts to enjoy a spin round the hall on the rollers. Now and then there would emanate a titter among the onlookers on the fall of a damsel. People are running away with the idea that James Corbett, by defeating Sullivan, is champion of the world. Sullivan has never defeated an English or Australian champion, but on the reverse was nearly knocked out by Charles Mitchell and refused to meet either Jackson, champion of the United Kingdom and Australia, or F. Slavin, ex-champion. Corbett will have to meet Peter Jackson before he can be recognized as champion of the world.

A letter from Mr. H. H. Williams says he was surprised, while watching the one-act drama, "The Major's Appointment," in the Tabor Grand opera house, Denver, Colorado, to see Mr. William Lewers of Honolulu appear on the stage as "Clerk in the Treasury Department," and again in the three-act farce "Gloriana." Both characters were well carried out. Mr. Lewers, a son of Mr. Robert Lewers, it will be remembered made a great hit in Honolulu as an amateur in "The Mikado."

THE LEGISLATURE.

NINETY-SIXTH DAY.

SATURDAY, SEPT. 23, 1892.

Morning Session.

Assembly convened for prayer at 10 o'clock. Minutes of previous meeting were read at 10:20 and approved.

Noble Walbridge stated that the Judiciary Bill was not yet ready for presentation to the Assembly, although to-day was the day set for the third reading.

On motion the third reading of the bill was set for next Thursday.

Rep. Smith, from the Judiciary Committee, reported on an item of $1,000 for encouragement of coffee culture. They say that while they believe it is important that the cultivation of coffee as well as certain other agricultural products (such as tobacco, ramie, tea and fruits) should be encouraged, they cannot recommend the item as set forth in the bill. If pecuniary aid is to be given by the Government to these objects it should be under a well considered and broader plan. They recommend that T. K. R. Amalu, of Hookeana, Kona, Hawaii, and another cultivator be supplied with pulping machines and that an item for the purchase of pulping machines to carry out provisions in the Appropriation Bill of 1890 to encourage coffee culture, $500, be inserted. Report was tabled for consideration with the Appropriation Bill.

Rep. Ashford offered the following resolution:

Resolved, that the Sanitary Committee be and they are hereby instructed to confer as early as practicable with representative members of the medical profession of Honolulu with a view to determining what measures may be necessary or desirable in order to prevent the introduction of cholera into this kingdom and to combat it in case it shall be here introduced. And said committee are hereby instructed to report after such conference such resolutions, bills or other measures looking to the end sought, as they shall deem to be for our best sanitary interests in the premises. Adopted.

President Walker announced the following as a special committee to consider the item of aid to private schools, viz.: Reps. Kamaueha, White, Smith, Ashford and the Minister of Finance.

The Clerk read answer of Minister of Interior to question of Rep. Smith relative to authority for issuing notice that voters at coming election must pay their personal taxes to exercise their right of franchise.

Rep. Smith said that the answer was really no answer at all, but that the matter had been referred to the Justices of the Supreme Court for their opinion he would not ask a further answer from the Minister.

At 10:55, the Order of the Day was moved and Bill 70, to regulate the use of the water rights at Waiohinu, district of Kau, Hawaii, came up, in connection with a report of the Judiciary Committee, for consideration.

The Bill was tabled.
Bill 175, regulating the hours of labor of certain Government employees, was, after some debate, read a second time and then referred to a Select Committee, consisting of Noble Marsden, Reps. Kanealii, Smith, White and Akina.

Bill 93, to define the duties of Ministers of the Crown and other officers of the Hawaiian Government in the purchase of manufactured goods or articles for the use of the Hawaiian Government, came up on second reading.

Noble Thurston was opposed to the Bill, he thought that it was not embodying the principle of the greatest good for the greatest number.

Pending action on the matter the Assembly at 12:45 adjourned.

A Chicken Thief.

It was reported a few days ago that three chickens awaited ownership at the Police Station. The chickens were claimed by Andrew Bannister, living at Palama, who suspected a Chinaman named Ah Ho of being the thief had him arrested. Ah Ho had been caught on the premises on the night of Sept. 14, the date of the missing of the fowls. Ah Ho was met the same night on King street carrying a bag which on being opened was found to contain three chickens. Yesterday morning Ah Ho was tried in the Police Court and found guilty of larceny of the chickens valued at $3, and was given ten months on the reef at hard labor. J. A. Magoon for defendant noted an appeal.

Wm. O'Connor has questioned the right of Edward Haulan to challenge James Stansbury, as premier sculler of America, to row for the championship of the world. He has challenged either Haulan or Gaudaur to decide who is to have the championship.

"Put Your Spare Time in the Bank."

Did you ever hear of the Australian Time Bank (Limited)? No? Well, then, you must know about it, and right away, too.

Mr. Anstey describes it. The idea is this. You don't use all your time to advantage. Most of it in fact runs to waste. You often have the time, but no chance to invest it profitably. So the time slides out of your possession, just as spilled water soaks into the ground and is lost. Suppose you could put your useless time into a bank, as you do money, and draw it out on checks as you want it. Do you see? Wouldn't that be what the Americans call "A big thing?"

"Bosh! Stuff! Humbug!" you say. "It is impossible. If we could do that we might bank time enough to turn us into boys and girls again."

True, so we might, but as you say, it can't be done. Yet, isn't there a moral in the idea? Open your eyes and read. The moral is plain as the trunk on an elephant. If you can't get back your waste time, then don't waste it.

Now, isn't a man wasting time when he gets ill? "Oh," you say, but he can't help it." That's worse nonsense than the Time Bank. Yes, he can help it, nine times out of ten. Look for a second. Here's a man who goes on to talk like this: "There was never," he says, "a stronger man in England than I was up to December, 1884. I am a gamekeeper, and about this time we had a deal of trouble with a gang of poachers. I had to keep watch all night long, and was scarcely ever in bed, and often slept in my damp clothes. At last we nabbed the poachers and landed them in jail. Shortly after this I was taken bad. At first I merely felt tired and dull. I had a bad taste in the mouth with slime covering my tongue and teeth. I could eat little or nothing, and what I did eat gave me great pain. I felt as if I held in a vice; my breathing was labored and short, and I spat up a great deal of phlegm. I had a dreadful hacking cough, and could get no sleep at night; for after ten minutes' sleep I would wake up and cough for two or three hours at a spell. Night after night I heard the clock strike every hour.

"When the bad attacks came on I felt as if I should suffocate, and had to be bolstered up in bed. I was coughing and spitting up matter and phlegm all night long. Finally I got so weak I couldn't walk across the floor, and if I ventured out my breathing was so bad that I had to stop and rest every few yards. Of course I was obliged to give up my work, and for eight months I did nothing. I was under the doctor all this time, and from the first he said my case was a bad one. After a while he said to my wife, 'Your husband is in a consumption, and will never get better.'

"I thought it was all over with me, and everyone who saw me thought I would die. About this time I read in a Liverpool paper of a medicine called Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup, and fancied I should like to try it. So my son, who lives in Liverpool, got me two bottles, and before I had used up the second one my cough was all gone, my breathing was easy, and I could eat anything. I soon got back to my work, and have enjoyed good sound health ever since. When I began taking the Syrup I was so low I don't believe I could have held out much longer. I have lived all my life in this district, and in my present house forty years.

(Signed) "THOMAS BATEMAN, 'Marbury Locks, 'Near Whitechurch, Salop. 'March 23rd, 1891."

What are we to learn from Mr. Bateman's experience? First, that he had no real consumption. His cough and the spitting up of matter were symptoms of a thoroughly disordered condition of the digestive organs, brought on by exposure, loss of rest, and the breaking up of all his regular habits of life. This resulted from his outlying for the poachers and his foolish sleeping in his damp clothes. Acute indigestion and dyspepsia followed, of course, with all the suffering which he details so well. But was the illness his fault? We do not say it was his fault, for maybe his occupation compelled him to take such risks, but where there is one case of this kind there are a hundred in which the evil might have been averted.

We conclude then that prevention is better than cure, but when a cure must be sought, the successful and trustworthy remedy is Mother Seigel's Syrup. Mr. Bateman told John Wilkinson this, and his account will soon be printed.

Busted, By Thunder.

The Advertiser says "the National Liberal party has endorsed the candidacy of H. Waterhouse and M. P. Robinson," which means the Reform party. The National Liberal party is no more; "it has gone where the woodbine twineth." It was dragged to its grave by the combine influence of imbecility and treachery. "Alas poor Yorick."

SPECTATOR.

Inwardly Digest.

For the benefit of some smart lawyers and a few scribblers in our midst, who have lately aired their superior knowledge in regard to the proper majority to depose a ministry, they should read and re-read the masterly analysis of the subject by Xanthias, in the BULLETIN of Sept. 19. By doing so, they may learn something, and be of some use to the country. CEYLON.
